

Japanese Language Learning Website

Bored and stuck at home due to COVID-19? Take this opportunity to brush up on your Japanese language skills! The national government has released a new Japanese language learning website where you can find useful Japanese phrases essential for everyday life. From using the post office to visiting a hospital to moving house, a variety of situations are covered on the website in text, audio, and video. The website is available in Japanese, English, Mandarin, Portuguese, Spanish, and Vietnamese. There are plans to add Indonesian, Filipino, Nepali and Khmer by March 2021, and the website is projected to cover 14 languages by March 2022.
